Producers' Liability – New Business Proposal Form

Clearance Procedures

The Clearance Procedures below should not be construed as exhaustive and they do not cover all situations that may arise in any particular circumstance or any particular Production.

1. Applicant and its counsel should monitor the Production at all stages, from inception through final cut, with a view to eliminating material that could give rise to a claim.

Consideration should be given to the likelihood of any claim or litigation. Is there a potential claimant portrayed in the Production who has sued before or is likely to sue again? Is there a close copyright or other legal issue? Is the subject matter of the Production such as to require difficult and extensive discovery in the event of necessity to defend? Are sources reliable? The above factors should be considered during all clearance procedures.

2. The Producer and the lawyer need to read the script prior to commencement of Production to eliminate matter that is defamatory, invades privacy or is otherwise potentially actionable.
3. A script research report should also be prepared before filming to alert the Producer to potential problems. Such problems may include: names of fictional characters that are coincidentally similar to real people; script references to real products, businesses or people if not cleared; or uses of copyrighted or other protected materials, etc. Fictional character names should be checked in relevant telephone directories, professional directories or other sources to minimize the risk of accidental identification of real people. Similar checks should be done for the names of businesses, organisations and products used in the Production. Special care should be taken to check names of person, businesses, etc., that are negatively portrayed. The Producer also must be alert to elements that do not appear in the script (such as art works used on the set) but that may need clearances.
4. If the Production is a documentary and there is no script, the Producer should provide its counsel with a detailed synopsis of the project in advance of production. (If it is a documentary series, the lawyer should receive a detailed synopsis of each episode.) If the Production will involve negative statements about people or businesses, the Producer should provide counsel with full details about the allegations and their merit. Problem statements can then be identified and thus avoided while filming. During filming, the Producer should be careful to avoid (or consult with counsel about) possible problem areas. (Examples include: filming identifiable copyrighted items or performances, trade marks, persons who have not specifically consented to be filmed, or minors.) Relevant laws differ from place to place: some jurisdictions have very restrictive rules about filming persons, signs, buildings, public art, etc. Also, be careful to avoid narration or editing that accidentally implies negative things about pictured people, products and businesses.
5. A copyright report on the underlying script, book or other work must be obtained, unless the work is an unpublished original, not based on any other work, and it is certain that it was not optioned or licensed to others prior to the Applicant's acquisition of rights. Both domestic and foreign copyrights and renewal rights should be checked. If a completed film is being acquired, a similar review should be made of copyright and renewals on any copyrighted underlying property.
6. The origins of the work should be ascertained — basic idea, sequence of events and characters. Have submissions of any similar properties been received by the Applicant or someone closely involved with the Production? If so, the circumstances as to why the submitting party may not claim theft or infringement should be described in detail.
7. Prior to final title selection, a title report must be obtained. TITLE COVERAGE WILL NOT BE OFFERED UNLESS A RECENT TITLE REPORT HAS BEEN SUBMITTED TO AND APPROVED BY THE COMPANY.

Masterpro from Chubb

Producers' Liability – New Business Proposal Form

8. Whether the Production is fictional or factual, the names, faces and likenesses of any recognizable living persons should not be used unless written releases have been obtained. A release is unnecessary if a person is part of a crowd scene or shown in a fleeting background. Releases can only be dispensed with if the Applicant provides the Company with specific reasons, in writing, as to why such releases are unnecessary and such reasons are accepted by the Company. The term "living persons" includes thinly disguised versions of living persons or living persons who are readily identifiable because of identity of other characters or because of the factual, historical or geographic setting.
9. All releases must give the Applicant the rights to edit, modify, add to and/or delete material, juxtapose any part of the film with any other film, change the sequence of events or of any questions posed and/or answers given, fictionalize persons or events, and make any other changes in the film that the Applicant deems appropriate. If a minor, consent has to be legally binding.
10. If music (pre-existing or original) is used, the Applicant must obtain all necessary synchronization and performance licenses from copyright proprietors. All necessary licenses must also be obtained for recordings of such music.
11. Written agreements must exist between the Applicant and all creators, authors, writers, performers and any other persons providing material (including quotations from copyrighted works) or on-screen services.
12. If distinctive locations, buildings, businesses, personal property or products are filmed, written releases must be secured. This is not necessary if such real property is seen only as non-distinctive background.
13. If the Production involves actual events, it should be ascertained that the author's major sources are independent and primary (contemporaneous newspaper reports, court transcripts, interviews with witnesses, etc.) and not secondary (another author's copyrighted work, autobiographies, etc.).
14. Shooting script and rough-cuts should be checked to assure compliance with all of the above. During photography, persons might be photographed on location, dialogue added or other matter included that was not originally contemplated.
15. If the intent is to use the Production or its elements on videocassettes, web sites, multimedia formats or other technology, rights to manufacture, distribute and release the Production must include the above rights and must be obtained from all writers, directors, actors, musicians, composers and others necessary therefore, including proprietors of underlying materials.
16. Film/video clips are dangerous unless licences and authorizations for the second use are obtained from the owner of the clip, as well as licenses from all persons rendering services in or supplying material contained in the clip; e.g., owners of underlying literary rights, writers, directors, actors, music owners or musicians. Special attention should be paid to music rights as music owners often take the position that new synchronization and performance licences are required.
17. Living persons and even the deceased (through their personal representatives or heirs) may have a "right of publicity." Clearances must be obtained where necessary. Where the work is fictional in whole or in part, the names of all characters must be fictional. If for some special reason particular names need not be fictional, full details must be provided to the Company in an attachment to the Proposal Form.
